PROFILE

As a physician committed to serving underserved communities, I have navigated clinical challenges ranging from refugee healthcare in UNHCR-supported projects to hands-on hospitalist roles. These diverse experiences have strengthened my ability to provide patient-centered care while adapting to high-pressure environments. My passion for anesthesia stems from my desire to play a pivotal role in improving patient outcomes in critical settings. I am confident that my background in diverse healthcare environments, combined with my commitment to vulnerable populations, will allow me to contribute meaningfully to an anesthesia residency and thrive in this dynamic field.
